Literary Terms

Q. Write the meaning of the following literary terms in the spaces provided. You may then apply these terms to the analysis of poetry and novels.

(Macbeth: Act 1 scene 1) Fair is foul, and foul is fair: This is a literary term used in Macbeth, called anadiplosis, a rhetorical figure of repetition in which a word or phrase appears both at the end of one clause and at the beginning of the next.

Quote the poems or novels that have applied these literary terms.

a. metonymy : _____

_____

b. ambiguity: _____

_____

c. anaphora: _____

_____

d. caesura: _____

_____

e. elegy: _____

_____